

CREATION MOMENTS

Proclaiming Evidence for Truth

THIS WEEK'S CREATION MOMENT

Micro Marvels of the Human Eye

Read Matthew 11:4-5

The tiny computer chip, the basis of modern computers, is a thin wafer of silicon only about 7 millimeters across – about one fourth of an inch. This tiny chip might have the equivalent of 100,000 transistors built into it. Despite its size, hundreds of connections might be attached to it. The design of the computer chip is a marvel surpassed only by the amazing technology that can build it.

If you were to find a silicon chip lying in the silicon sand at the beach (which would be quite an accomplishment, because they are so small!), you would never be able to convince even one engineer that the chip had formed through the chance movements of all that silicon-based sand!

Now consider the human eye. The retina at the back of the eye is a very thin membrane, much thinner than even the clingiest food wrap. This retina contains not transistors but much more sophisticated photo receptors, each of which is a high gain amplifier. The retina doesn't have 100,000 of these, but rather it has 200,000 for each square millimeter of retina!

But the greatest wonder of all is how any scientist can say that your miraculous eye is the result of unguided genetic mistakes that, just by chance, resulted in the eye. Indeed, God's fingerprints are all over the creation, just as our human work is seen in the computer chip. How can one who can design only the computer chip dare question the One who can design the eye – and so much more!

Prayer: Father, just as man's most creative technology is nothing compared with what You have made, so all of our best efforts are like filthy rags. I must rely entirely on what Jesus has done for me so I may have the forgiveness of sins. Amen.

© 2010, Creation Moments. Churches may freely copy these bulletin inserts.

CREATION MOMENTS, INC.

P. O. Box 839 • Foley, MN 56329 • 800-422-4253

To watch a video of this Church Bulletin Insert – and 24 more – order a copy of our Moments with God's Creation DVD at www.creationmoments.com.

CREATION MOMENTS

Proclaiming Evidence for Truth

THIS WEEK'S CREATION MOMENT

Micro Marvels of the Human Eye

Read Matthew 11:4-5

The tiny computer chip, the basis of modern computers, is a thin wafer of silicon only about 7 millimeters across – about one fourth of an inch. This tiny chip might have the equivalent of 100,000 transistors built into it. Despite its size, hundreds of connections might be attached to it. The design of the computer chip is a marvel surpassed only by the amazing technology that can build it.

If you were to find a silicon chip lying in the silicon sand at the beach (which would be quite an accomplishment, because they are so small!), you would never be able to convince even one engineer that the chip had formed through the chance movements of all that silicon-based sand!

Now consider the human eye. The retina at the back of the eye is a very thin membrane, much thinner than even the clingiest food wrap. This retina contains not transistors but much more sophisticated photo receptors, each of which is a high gain amplifier. The retina doesn't have 100,000 of these, but rather it has 200,000 for each square millimeter of retina!

But the greatest wonder of all is how any scientist can say that your miraculous eye is the result of unguided genetic mistakes that, just by chance, resulted in the eye. Indeed, God's fingerprints are all over the creation, just as our human work is seen in the computer chip. How can one who can design only the computer chip dare question the One who can design the eye – and so much more!

Prayer: Father, just as man's most creative technology is nothing compared with what You have made, so all of our best efforts are like filthy rags. I must rely entirely on what Jesus has done for me so I may have the forgiveness of sins. Amen.

© 2010, Creation Moments. Churches may freely copy these bulletin inserts.

CREATION MOMENTS, INC.

P. O. Box 839 • Foley, MN 56329 • 800-422-4253

To watch a video of this Church Bulletin Insert – and 24 more – order a copy of our Moments with God's Creation DVD at www.creationmoments.com.